Fact and Comment Large Production of Houses Slated

By CHARLES C. COHAN

There's much promise of building-situation benefit in the new P.H.A. ruling whereby builders can reduce to 30 days, from 60, the period in which newly built inomes must be held for sale to veterans before being purchasable by nonveterans. Certain requirements must be met but they den't look difficult.

requirements must be mist but they deer't look difficult. Briefly, if the builder can show sufficiently ammuned sale offer of humes to veceram and that continuance of such effer would work a huntality, the Fill.A. will saids the ecopired sale-holding period. If a deal with a veteran falls through, some other veces and the sale of the sale sales preference, but speri is such case the time reduce its mays loops.

Rancho Garta Since, as we've told, there are 'hundreds of veterans not francially able to buy houses it wouldn't make any difference to them if the houses were half for 100 days for postable spur-chase by ex-servicemen. Rental housing is the answer for them. On the other hand there are many veterans able and willing to may houses and they aboud he able to make a selection in
